To Chairman Abney & members of the committee,

With all of the moaning and groaning by employers that employees aren't sprinting to return to high-risk positions during a pandemic for poverty wages, H 6249 is a great bill to actually help on this issue. Excluding some income while increasing partial UI benefits when people are just getting back to work will help worker's bottom line when they would no doubt be harmed by the loss in income. If we want to get people back into positions that need to be filled for companies to re-open, then they need to be incentivized to do so. The answer is simple: people need more money.

Thank You,
